

Buy One Get Both Half Off

at The Gift of Chiropractic

For the month of February, The Gift of Chiropractic is offering The Gift of Love. February is the month of love and we would be honored to begin care for you and whoever you love, or believe may benefit from receiving nervous system focused, vitalistic chiropractic care from us. If you've been meaning to see a chiropractor for a while but are hesitant to begin, this is the offer you've been looking for!

Here's the offer: claim your Initial Visit and bring your partner, best friend, your boss, your neighbor, your acquaintance you met last week, etc and you will BOTH receive the Initial Visit (valued at $100) that includes the consultation, in-depth history, chiropractic exam, and the adjustment at 50% off ($50). Love makes the world go round and you can start by giving your nervous system the love it needs and gifting it to another :)

Terms and Conditions

Here's how it'll work: Both of you will need to claim your own individual New Client visits at the time of your choosing at thegiftofchiropractic.janeapp.com/#/staff_member/1/treatment/2. The sessions can be back to back or on different days. The scheduling website will ask for your credit card information but will NOT be charged. In the comments section of the intake form, please let us know the name of the person who will be receiving the complimentary Initial Visit so we know who to apply the promotion to. After service(s) has been rendered, we will apply the "BOGBHO" promotion on the backend so that both you and the person you're bringing in will be able to benefit from this offer. This is for new clients only. This offer expires at the end of February.

Exp: February 28, 2023
